CARE OF TREES ON ARRIVAL—Be careful in unpacking to note everything and immediately "heel-in" in moist soil until planted, or plant at once. Never allow roots to dry. Plant an inch or two deeper than they grew in nursery, and be sure to cultivate thoroughly throughout the season.

When roses are budded, which can be told by examining the stem of the plant, they should be planted so that the knot made by the union of bud with stock will be at least two inches under the ground. The best summer treatment for roses in this climate is to mulch heavily with barn-yard manure. Cover the ground soon after planting to $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches deep and keep about that thickness all summer. If weeds or grass grow about the plants pull out instead of hoeing. Do not disturb that mulch.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY—We guarantee everything to be true to name and to reach purchaser in good condition, but our responsibility is in no case to exceed the cost of the trees. All stock bought must be accepted with this understanding.

MISTAKES—We, like other mortals, are likely to make them, but will gladly correct same if you will give us the opportunity. Write us promptly if there is anything you are not pleased with.

We guarantee all stock to reach purchaser in good condition, but our responsibility ceases with such delivery. Good planting and thorough cultivation will insure practically all plants.
